POSITION: Designer

REPORTS TO: Creative Director

DESCRIPTION:
Grab the future by the pixels. Mortarr is in on the lookout for an experienced Designer with serious website and app building abilities. If you're looking for creative freedom to use your best design ideas? Read on.

NEED:
Mortarr, the source for inspiration, products and pros in the commercial construction and design industry, is in search of a designer with strong web and platform design skills to help us make our site and app better, faster. We're challenging an antiquated and heavily siloed industry to embrace the latest technology and collaborate the modern way to make it all work better. Picture a world where more offices, coffee shops and bars have the atmospheric appeal of your favorite spots. If you'd like to see a world where good design is as widespread as bad design is now, you're going to love working with our crew.

If it thrills your creative soul, you may also be called on to contribute your design talents to make videos, ads, emails, articles, and other attention grabbing brand elements to help Mortarr stand out in an ever-growing sea of sameness.

Keep in mind that at Mortarr we're the agency and the client, so we can do pretty much whatever we want. Those great ideas you have that people say are too edgy or too out there. We want those. See example: I'd Tap That. We need someone ready to push mortarr.com and with it an entire industry into the future.

SKILLS:
- Take web and app designs from challenge-solving concept to developer-ready files.
- Create stunningly simple designs with a focus on user experience.
- Operate within, yet be willing to push the boundaries of identified brand standards and design systems.
- Considerate of user feedback to influence design.
- Contribute to improvements in current design systems and brand standards.
- Live in the balance between Sweating the Details and Making it Happen.
- Curiosity is a must have.

- Show others Mad Respect.
- Love to make cool stuff.

QUALIFICATIONS:
1. Killer portfolio.
2. 3+ years of web design experience.
3. BA in design, art or design related field.

PROFICIENT IN:
- Adobe XD
- Adobe Illustrator
- Adobe Indesign
- Adobe Photoshop

BOTTOM LINE:
You turn killer ideas into beautiful designs every single day.

NEXT STEPS:
If you're interested, send us a link to your best work. If you really want to stand out, tell us why you do. What do you like and what do you not like about the current state of Mortarr.com and the Mortarr App? You can imagine we have a lot of fixing on our radar, and it would be great to get a feel for your style of design thinking.

The more experienced, the more talented, and the more proven you are, the more open we are to remote working arrangements.

Mortarr is an equal opportunity employer. Yes, that's right, we even hire cat people from time to time.

Send your deets to connect@mortarr.com to get started.